

2025 L'ÉGERIE

Rosé

The Story of This Wine. Dry rosé wine is perfect for inspiring creativity and joy, so we named it after the French word for “muse”. This limited release is made from traditional Provençal varietals, and features delicious red fruit and floral notes, in a salmon pink robe. It’s a perfect wine for a summer day, or night, or whenever your spirits could use a lift.

Winemaker’s Tasting Notes. “A perfect summer and fall wine, featuring inviting aromas and flavors of Cara Cara orange, kumquat, creamy melon, watermelon rind, tangerine blossom, tarragon, white strawberry, pink peppercorn, dried thyme. The palate has some nice richness shot through with bright acidity. But you don’t need to overthink it like we sometimes do, it’s rosé in the Provençal style. Enjoy it over the next few years with a great meal, or with friends. Drink now-2030.” - Chris Peterson, Winemaker

Blend: 70% Grenache,
30% Mourvèdre

AVA: Columbia Valley

Vineyards: Upland Grenache, Kiona Heart of the Hill Mourvèdre

Alcohol: 13.8%

Cases: 108

Release: May 2026

93 points, Owen Bargreen

“The 2025 L’Egerie Rosé is a brilliant combination of mainly Grenache (70%) with the remainder Mourvèdre. A light kiss of sweetness greets you on the palate, as bright strawberry, cranberry and guava fruits parade with cantaloupe and copious minerals. Beautifully textured, with terrific weight and salty tension, and damp earthy accents, enjoy now and over the next eight plus years to come. Drink 2026-2034.”
